45. Would You Rather Questions About Music

Turn the volume up for these.

- ✦ Would you rather hear one perfect song on repeat forever or have a constantly changing playlist you have no control over?
- ✦ Would you rather be able to play every instrument perfectly or have a voice that moves people to tears every time you sing?
- ✦ Would you rather lose music for a year or lose all other forms of entertainment but keep music?
- ✦ Would you rather attend one concert from any artist in history or front-row tickets to every show of your favorite artist's entire career?

✦ Would you rather write a song that becomes the anthem of a generation or perform one that becomes the song that reminds millions of people of the best moment of their lives?

✦ Would you rather music always match your mood perfectly or always contrast it to shift how you feel?

46. Would You Rather Questions About Animals

For the pet lovers and the ones who pretend they're not.

✦ Would you rather be able to communicate with every animal or have every animal instinctively trust you?

✦ Would you rather have a dog that lives as long as you do or be able to have unlimited pets throughout your life with no grief when they go?

✦ Would you rather spend a week living as your pet or have your pet spend a week experiencing what your life is like?

✦ Would you rather swim with dolphins or walk freely among lions with no threat of harm?

✦ Would you rather a tiny elephant as a house pet or a giant cat the size of a horse that's perfectly gentle?

✦ Would you rather know what your pet is thinking right now or find out what they dream about?

47. Would You Rather Questions About the Universe

Go big.

✦ Would you rather be the first human to land on Mars or the one who discovers proof of life somewhere else in the universe?

✦ Would you rather know what happens after we die or know whether we're alone in the universe?

✦ Would you rather explore the deepest point of the ocean or the farthest point of space that humans have reached?

✦ Would you rather live through a moment that changes the course of human history or quietly do something small that ripples out in ways you'll never see?

✦ Would you rather know the origin of the universe with complete certainty or have every human being finally agree on what to do with that knowledge?

✦ Would you rather be remembered as someone who looked up or someone who looked within?

48. Would You Rather Questions for Long Road Trips

The conversation you didn't plan on having.

✦ Would you rather talk the whole drive or ride in comfortable silence with someone who feels like home?

✦ Would you rather have the perfect playlist or perfect company with no music at all?

✦ Would you rather drive through the night and arrive exhausted or stop somewhere unexpected and arrive a day late?

✦ Would you rather know every stop on the route or figure it out as you go?

✦ Would you rather travel a road you've driven a hundred times or take a new one every single time?

✦ Would you rather arrive at the destination or stay in the part where you're still on your way?

49. Would You Rather Questions About Regret and Choices

Handle with care.

✦ Would you rather know which choices in your past led to your biggest regrets or be completely blind to the connection so you can move forward freely?

✦ Would you rather redo one decision from your twenties or have one more conversation with someone you wish you hadn't lost touch with?

✦ Would you rather carry a regret that taught you something or let go of it and lose the lesson too?

✦ Would you rather make one bold choice right now that might change everything or stay on the path you're on and see where it leads?

✦ Would you rather know that you made the right choices or simply feel at peace with the ones you made?

✦ Would you rather live a life with no regrets because you took every risk or no regrets because you made careful, intentional choices?

50. Final Round: Would You Rather Questions That Stay With You

Save these for when the conversation has found its rhythm.

✦ Would you rather be remembered for how you made people feel or for what you actually did?

✦ Would you rather live a life that makes sense to everyone else or one that makes sense only to you?

✦ Would you rather find out you were right about something important or discover you were wrong and grow because of it?

✦ Would you rather the people who love you see you completely or only ever see the best version of you?

✦ Would you rather end each day knowing you were kind or knowing you were honest?

Would you rather ask better questions or have better answers?
